PREVENTION OF MONEY LAUNDERING ACT, 2002

RBI/2015-16/42 DBR.AML.BC.NO.15/14.01.001/2015-16 dated July 1 2015

1. Background:

The Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 came into effect from 1st July 2005. The necessary Notifications / Rules under the said Act were published in the Gazette of India on 1st July 2005 by the Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance and Government of India.

SEBI vide its circular dated 18th January 2006, required Market intermediaries to lay down policy framework for anti-money laundering measures to be followed. Being a Stock Broker and a Depository Participant needs to adhere to the same. SEBI has also issued a Master circular dated 19th December 2008, which consolidates all the requirements /obligations issued with regard to AML/CFT until December 15, 2008. These Guidelines lay down the minimum requirements / disclosures to be made with respect to clients.

2. Objective

The objective of this policy framework is to:

- Create awareness and provide clarity on KYC standards and AML measures.
- Outline the obligations under PMLA.
- Provide a framework for systems and procedures.
- To have a proper Customer Due Diligence (CDD) process before registering individual and non-individual clients (hereinafter also refer to as clients)
- To monitor and report suspicious transactions.
- To discourage and identify money laundering or terrorist financing activities.
- To take adequate and appropriate measures to follow the spirit of the PMLA.
3. What is Money Laundering?

3.1 Money Laundering can be defined as engaging in financial transactions that involve income derived from criminal activity, transactions designed to conceal the true origin of criminally derived proceeds and appears to have been received through legitimate sources/origins.

3.2 This is done in three phases – Placement Phase, Layering Phase & Integration Phase.

➢ Placement Phase- The physical disposal of cash proceeds derived from illegal activity.

➢ Layering Phase- Disguising illicit proceeds from their source by creating complex layers of financial transactions designed to hamper the audit trail, and provide anonymity to their owners.

➢ Integration Phase- Placing the laundered proceeds back into the economy in such a way that they re-enter the financial system appearing to be legitimate business funds.

Having identified these stages of the money laundering process, financial institutions are required to adopt procedures to guard against and report suspicious transactions that occur at any stage.

The ability to launder the proceeds of criminal activity through the financial systems of the world is vital to the success of criminal operations. Consequently India, as one of the world’s emerging financial markets, has a vital role to play in combating money laundering. Banks, Financial Institutions, Mutual Funds, Brokers, Depositories, Portfolio Managers and Intermediaries becoming involved in money laundering offences could face prosecution under PMLA leading to reputation and other risks.
4. Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) – INDIA

4.1. The Government of India set up Financial Intelligence Unit-India (FIU- IND) on November 18, 2004 as an independent body to report directly to the Economic Intelligence Council (EIC) headed by the Finance Minister.

4.2. FIU-IND has been established as the central national agency responsible for receiving, processing, analyzing and disseminating information relating to suspect financial transactions. Suspicion is personal and subjective and falls far short of proof based on firm evidence. Suspicion may be defined as being beyond mere speculation and based on some foundation i.e. "A degree of satisfaction and not necessarily amounting to belief but at least extending beyond speculation as to whether an event has occurred or not"; and "Although the creation of suspicion requires a lesser factual basis than the creation of a belief, it must nonetheless be built upon some foundation."

a report to be passed first to a supervisor or manager, there is a clear reporting chain under which those suspicions will be passed promptly, without delay, to the Principal Officer. Once an employee has reported his/her suspicions to the Principal Officer

An important element to the success of the AML process is that the customers

The company can however make normal enquiries to learn more about the transaction or instruction to determine whether the activities of the customer arouse suspicion.
